The following is a brief summary of only some of the risk factors which may apply to each of the Funds: An investment in a Fund carries with it a significant degree of risk. The value of shares in the Funds may fall as well as rise and investors may not get back the amount originally invested. Accordingly, an investment in a Fund should only be made by persons who are able to bear the risk of loss of all the capital invested. Investment Risk - An investment in a Fund involves investment risks, including possible loss of the amount invested. The capital return and income of a Fund are based on the capital appreciation and income on the investments it holds, less expenses incurred. Therefore, a Fund's return may be expected to fluctuate in response to changes in such capital appreciation or income. Currency Risk - Each Fund is denominated in either U.S. Dollars, Euro or Sterling but the investments of a Fund may be acquired in a wide range of currencies and this will create currency exposure. Political Risks - The value of a Fund's assets may be affected by uncertainties, such as political developments, changes in government policies, taxation and currency repatriation and restrictions on foreign investment in some of the countries in which the Funds may invest. Counterparty and Settlement Risks - The Funds will be exposed to a credit risk on parties with whom it trades and may also bear the risk of settlement default. In addition, market practices in relation to the settlement of transactions and the custody of assets could provide increased risks. Emerging Markets - Where a Fund invests in equities or securities of companies incorporated in or whose principal operations are based in emerging markets additional risks may be encountered. These include: (a) Currency Risk: the currencies in which investments are denominated may be unstable, may be subject to significant depreciation and may not be freely convertible; (b) Country Risk: the value of the Fund's assets may be affected by political, legal, economic and fiscal uncertainties within the emerging markets; (c) Market Characteristics: some emerging markets are still in the early stages of their development, have less volume, are less liquid and experience greater volatility than more established markets and are not highly regulated; (d) Custody Risk: in some markets custodians are not able to offer the level of service and safe-keeping, settlement and administration of securities that are available in more developed markets; and (e) Disclosure: less complete and reliable fiscal and other information may be available to investors and accounting standards may not provide the same degree of shareholder protection as would generally apply internationally. Substantial Repurchases - If there are substantial repurchases within a limited period of time, it may be difficult for a Fund to provide sufficient funds to meet such repurchases without liquidating positions prematurely at an inappropriate time or on unfavourable terms. Investment in Other Collective Investment Schemes - Each Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes and management fees and performance fees (if applicable) will be in addition to each Fund's charges.

The foregoing summary list of risk factors does not purport to be a complete enumeration or explanation of the risks involved in an investment in the Fund. Prospective investors must read the entire Offering Memorandum of the Company and consult with their own legal, tax and financial advisers before deciding to invest in a Fund.
